

Beautiful floral die cut and embossing techniques

About the Author

Kailash

Born and raised in the beautiful rainbow nation of South Africa. I'm married to my wonderful and very supportive husband for 34 years and we have a 29 year old son.

We moved across the Atlantic ocean in 2002 and now call Illinois home.

My crafting journey began soon after arriving in the US, when I learned scrapbooking. I had lots of fun making albums of "life events" and while it was a lovely form of cherishing memories, I knew I wanted to learn the art of stamping which was such a new and exciting concept for me. I attended stamping classes at Archivers (oh how I wish they were still in business) to gain knowledge and ideas. After purchasing my first stamp which was the cutest, little owl stamp from Hero Arts I joined the Hero Arts flickr group. I was totally immersed with learning new techniques, participating in card swap/exchanges, blog challenges and Hero Arts scrambles, which got my creative juices flowing. What an exciting ride it has been this far!

I strive to express my art by creating varied card/project designs including clean and simple, bold and bright, mixed media and cute and fun which is both enjoyable and therapeutic. I formed the most amazing friendships, and am inspired daily by the talented designers within our crafting community for which I am forever grateful.

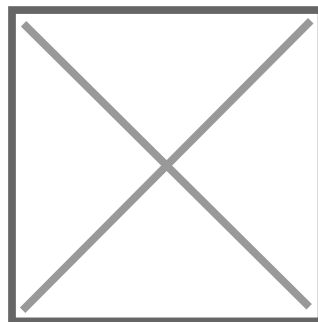

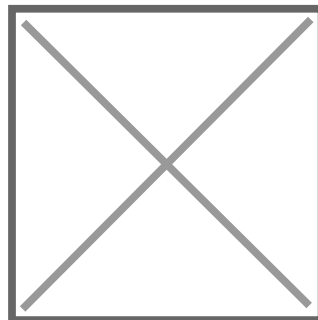

My other interests include gardening, the art of decoupage, watching true life documentaries, reading non fiction and my favorite, which is to follow formula one motor racing.

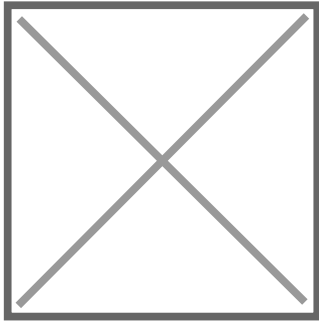

I would like to thank Kanan for this wonderful opportunity and wish her much success in her crafting journey.

Hello everyone,

Iâ€™m thrilled to present Kailashâ€™s wonderful creation. Our friendship goes back close to 10 years now since we met through Flickr group. I love her card making style and versatility with florals.

Be sure to give her a follow (links below) and show some love in the comments! And tell us, what did you think of this incredible piece of art? Which technique or element did you like the most?
