This week at Lawnsaping the challenge is to get inspired from one of the DT's card. I really like Yainea's this card and thought to create something similar to it.

Here is my take.

I really like the cute little scene on her card and the circle shape. I chose scallop circle shape for my card, first with masking technique I created the sky using two different Distress inks for the bottom panel I used Memento and Distress inks in the shades of green. Instead of using critter, I used pinwheels for my card – Lawn Fawn’s – “Cruising Through Life” stamp set, I stamped them on the patterned paper and adhere them on my card base with some dimensions, applied some glitters on each of them. I love all the bright and happy colors on my card, it makes me happy when the days are so gloomy. Hope you will like my card.

Thank you so much for stopping by and stay tuned as I am coming with one more card, which I made on Saturday for the Hero Arts 90 minutes scramble. ?
