

You're in my thoughts

Description

Hey everyone. I made one card today and going to submit the same in couple of challenges.

The inspiration for my card came from here

It is the first challenge by Muse and love everything about this card and challenge, great inspiration, isn't it? The best part is you can use whatever you have. I came up with this card.

The layout of the card by Amy is wonderful and I wanted some different look for my card, I took BasickGrey pattern paper which has brown and off white color combinations and I am having this felt fabric which also has off white color, so used that to make roses and added buttons for embellishment. I also apply the distress ink (antique linen) on flowers and on card base very lightly, for leaves I used My Mind Eye's pattern paper and also apply some same distress ink on that. The sentiment is embossed with white and its from Hero Arts (CL351).

I like the look of my card, as I always make cards with bright colors and this time I used only two colors, what do you think? I am also entering this card for Word Art Wednesday's Anything Goes challenge. ?

Thank you so much for stopping by. ?
