

I Love You!!

Description

Hey dear friends. Today I have made quite a shabby looking vintage card, (at least I have tried to make)

Isn't this week's Tuesday Trigger adorable?? So many beautiful laces and twines with cute and unique colors, just loved it.

Live a Notion So keeping in mind above Tuesday Trigger I came up with this card several pattern papers from various paper pads (American craft's Dear Lizzy's Neapolitan collection, My Mind's Eye) along with kraft card stock. And I used EK Success's border punch and distressed all the borders with Antique linen Distressed Ink. Masked the front panel and white embossed the heart flower from Hero Arts (CL351) and adhere the borders on the same panel with the lace, I have distressed it with the same ink, I drew two hearts and cut and distressed them, for the sentiment I used Hero Arts (CL141) stamps, which is also white embossed and made banner for it, finally added button with craft thread, and using some foam adhesive adhere the front panel on my card base.

I used

Thank you so much for visiting, see you soon. ?
